DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. The Amendment submitted on June 6, 2005, has been entered. Claims 4, 6, 7, 9, and 11 – 14 have been amended. Therefore, the pending claims are 1 – 15.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 2 is objected to because of the following informalities: the term “span-bonded” is misspelled. It appears that the applicant meant spun-bonded fibers. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 4, 5, and 13 – 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. The phrase “weight/surface ratio” in claim 4 is indefinite. First, it is not clear how this measurement is a ratio since it has units. Further, it is unclear what is being measure for the weight and surface features. For purposes of examination, the numbers will be interpreted as basis weight based on the units used in the claim. Claim 5 is similarly rejected.

6. Claim 13 and 14 are rejected because it is unclear if the applicant is claiming a method or product in these claims. The preamble recites “manufacture”. It is unclear if the preamble is limiting the claim to a product or process. Further, the claims themselves do not recite any specific structural or method limitations to clarify what is being claimed. For purposes of examination, the claims are interpreted as any product that can be made from the woven fabric. These claims are only reciting what the fabric is capable of being used as and the limitations do not further the limit the woven structure recited in the parent claims.

7. Claim 15 is indefinite. The claim does not clearly identify the what or where the trimmings come from and how the are manipulated before the weaving steps. The only positively recited method limitations are drawn to weaving the strips into a fabric. Thus, any prior art that only teaches weaving strips of fabric to form a woven textile will read on the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

9. Claims 1, 3, 6 – 8, and 11 – 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brown (2,961,011).

Brown discloses a woven fabric made from paper threads (column 1, lines 15 – 25). The paper strips are twisted together with other paper strips and wound transparent or translucent bands of plastic material (column 1, lines 45 – 50). The paper strips are made from nonwoven materials, thus they correspond to the applicant's nonwoven fabric. The paper strips are made from cellulose and pulp materials. Thus, claims 1, 3, 6 – 8, and 12 – 15 are anticipated.

With regards to claim 11, the limitation that the nonwoven fabric is obtained from processing weight is a method limitation that is not given patentable weight, at this time, in the product claim. The final products would still be a woven fabric comprising nonwoven warp and/or weft yarns.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 1771

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown.

The features of Brown have been set forth above. Brown fails to teach the basis weight of the woven fabric. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to choose the claimed basis weight, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955). One of ordinary skill in the art would optimize the weight of the fabric, to provide good coverage, appearance, and feel, while minimizing the cost of the fabric by limiting the amount of material used in the fabric. Thus, claims 4 and 5 are rejected.

12. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown.

The features of Brown have been set forth above. Brown discloses a woven fabric made with twisted strips of plastic and paper. Thus, one of ordinary skill in the art would choose strips having a width which is sized such that the strips can be easily twisted together. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to choose strips with a width between 1 and 10 cm, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 220 F.2d 454, 105 USPQ 233 (CCPA 1955). Thus, claims 9 and 10 are rejected.

Allowable Subject Matter

Art Unit: 1771

13. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

14. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art fails to teach or fairly suggest using strips of nonwoven fabrics made by hydroentangling, thermal bonding, or spunbonding as the warp or weft yarns in a woven fabric.
